Captain: Pier Scala

Dear Friends,

It is an honour (spelt correctly) to welcome you for our 2nd annual Blogger's cruise. Over 400 of you have decided to join together to celebrate life on board the Carnival Fantasy. I have been joined by Stephanie, Tony, and Tom from Internet Services. These are the people who make sure you are able to view the Blog Thingy each and every day. Also joining me is Assistant Cruise Director, Stephanie Meads who you all met on the last Blogger's cruise and Chris Prideaux, Director of Entertainment. I am also proud that we have been joined by many of the industries top Travel Writers who I give a special welcome to and from our Public Relations department, Vance Gulliksen.

This information sheet will provide you with a schedule of the private events and activities that we have arranged for you. These are in addition to the brilliant entertainment and activity program that Cruise Director, Big Tex and his staff have prepared.

You will also see that we have a Hospitality room, which will be manned each and every day during the hours listed. It is very important that if any of you have any concerns that you let my colleagues or I know. During the cruise you will receive 5 little gifts from me to you, which I hope you enjoy. So lets all have fun together and most importantly I forgot to pack my hemorrhoid cream.....does anyone have any?

Welcome Home

Your Friend,

John
